RIGHT ARM

REGULAR SHOW

A net of a cube, consisting of six squares arranged in a cross shape. The central square is labeled "LEFT ARM". The net is shown in a light gray color, with black outlines and a small black square at the bottom right corner.
